CSU Systemwide Policy Working Group

In late 2023, the Chancellor's Office convened a systemwide working group composed of university representatives and Tribal partners with extensive expertise in NAGPRA repatriation. This group was formed to provide critical guidance and insight in the development of the inaugural California State University systemwide NAGPRA policy.

We extend our deepest appreciation to the members of the policy working group for their generous contributions of time, knowledge, and perspective. Their thoughtful engagement and commitment have been instrumental in shaping a policy that reflects both legal obligations and the values of respect, collaboration, and accountability. We are grateful for their partnership and continued support as we move forward in implementing this important work.

- Courtney Ann Coyle, Attorney at Law, Tribal Attorney
- Desiree Martinez (Gabrielino/Tongva), Tribal Relations and NAGPRA/CalNAGPRA Director, Cal Poly Pomona
- Melodi McAdams, Tribal Heritage Manager, United Auburn Indian Community of the Auburn Rancheria
- Buffy McQuillen (Yokayo Pomo, Yuki, Nomlaki), THPO NAGPRA, Federated Indians of Graton Rancheria
- Mario Pallari, NAHC Staff Attorney

Chancellor's Office Representatives

- Samantha Cypret (Mountain Maidu), Executive Director, CSU Office of Tribal Relations
- Rachel McBride-Praetorius (Yurok), Director of Tribal Relations, CSU Chico
- Adriane Tafoya (Kitanemuk), Senior Manager, Tribal Relations, CSU Systemwide NAGPRA Coordinator
